DETAILED ACTION

Election of Species

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Applicants are asked to elect a specific species from each group listed below.

- A. A specific pgs gene as stated in claim 1.
- B. A specific vector as stated in claim 2.
- C. A specific bacteria as stated in claims 4 and 5.
- D. A specific expressed form of the antigen as stated in claims 8, 14, 15 and 18-20.
- E. A specific mode of administering the claimed vaccine as stated in claims 9-11 and 16.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1648

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- A. Claim 1 requires a specific pgs gene, all other claims are generic.
- B. Claim 2 requires a specific vector, all other claims are generic.
- C. Claims 4 and 5 require a specific bacterium, all other claims are generic.
- D. Claims 8, 14, 15 and 18-20 require a specific expressed form of the antigen, all other claims are generic.
- E. Claims 9-11 and 16 require a specific mode of administering, all other claims are generic.

The following claim(s) are generic: All claims are generic.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each pgs gene, parvovirus capsid antigen, vector, bacterium, form of expressed antigen and mode of administration are species that lack the same special technical feature. For example: vector of claim 2 relies on different pgs genes and capsid antigens; the bacterium of claims 4 and 5 are different based on their distinct morphologies/pathologies (i.e., Mycobacterium bovis, shigella, Bacillus, etc.).

Summary

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
